LOPEC conference—valuable insights

The LOPEC conference compliments the exhibition perfectly. Prominent experts from companies and the scientific community present comprehensive information about the current state of technological development and business applications. The conference is tailored most effectively to the interests of its participants, and is divided into three modules: Business Conference, Technical Conference, Scientific Conference. A transfer of valuable knowledge at its finest.

- » We are looking forward to seeing you at LOPEC 2018 – at our 10th anniversary!

For Hans-Jürgen Lemp, Director Global Sales & Business Development New Platform at Merck, this year's LOPEC was a huge success:

"LOPEC is the marketplace to bring the "inventors" together with those, who are looking for new applications, thereby connecting the right people. LOPEC is driven by dedicated and committed people with a mission."
